WATER

ANTIPODES SPARKLING WATER 1 LITRE NEW ZEALAND

10.0

The CO₂ in particular also shows off the minerality in the water – which remains gentle in texture, but with a slightly louder voice. If I had to suggest any other flavours it would be a citrus note, due to the high toned lift the water expresses. There is a definite more-ish quality in the sparkling water – the palate seeks another mouthful to continually refresh and revitalise the taste buds.

ANTIPODES STILL WATER 1 LITRE NEW ZEALAND

10.0

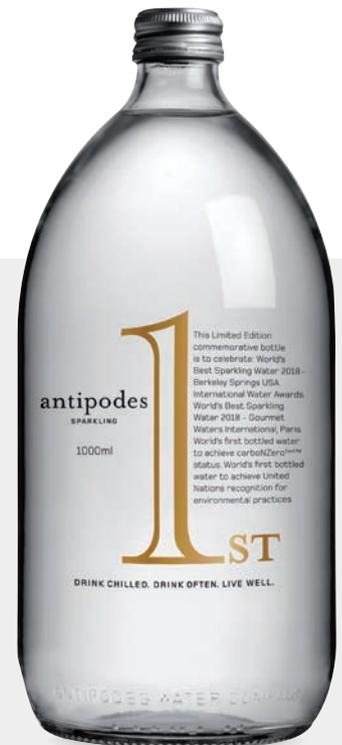

The water has a soft feminine approach with a silken, slippery texture and a gentle crisp appeal. Very light in body with a subtle, yet noticeable Greywacke mineral lift. The finish is refreshing, and like diving into a high altitude mountain lake, awakens the body, mind and palate.

“Antipodes is the only bottled water I have tasted that does nothing to interfere with the delicate flavours and textures of even the most elegant of wines. In these days when elegance and delicacy are prized in our food and our wines, it stands to reason that the most seamless match is achieved with a water subtle in minerality like Antipodes”.
